EUDENT® ED-Prep Urea peroxide 10% & EDTA 15% (CE)

Cream for the chemical-mechanical preparation of root canals, with Urea peroxide & EDTA

- Helps clean and open the root canals, due to the EDTA it contains which removes calcium salts while enhancing the penetration of pharmaceutical substances.
- Helps control bacteria, especially anaerobic ones existing in the root canal.
- Helps remove dead tissue and dentin debris from the root canal due the oxygenanted microfoam which it produces locally when it comes in contact with the walls of the root canal.
- Helps in the internal whitening of the tooth.

Indications: Cleaning and preparation of root canals in combination with Eudent ED-Chlor (3% sodium hypochlorite solution).

EUDENT® EUGENOL (CE)

Pure eugenol (≥ 99%)

EUDENT® Eugenol is a product widely known for the preparation of formulations for dental fillings. Eugenol, a natural component of clove oil, is supplied in chemically pure form with increased activity. It is used in cases of severe pain in the teeth, due to decay which can be penetrated up to the tooth nerve.

Mixing it with zinc oxide provides a material with excellent sealing properties. It acts as a temporary restorative material both for dental fillings and as a lining material when correcting an unrestored resin.

FORMS & PACKAGING: Bottle of 30ml

For Professional Use

GENERAL DENTISTRY PRODUCTS

EUDENT® Caries Indicator (CE)

The product pigments and reveals carries in areas hard to locate. This way excessive drilling of tooth decay can be avoided. The product can also be used for the fast and easy localization of the root canal opening. When the product is used for the localization of root canals at the early stage of an interdental procedure, a small red spot will remain on the root canal opening. To remove carries, use a low speed drill. Repeat as many times as necessary until all tooth decay is removed.

Indications: Carries indicator that colors decayed dentin

• It doesn't contain zinc • Suitable for homeopathy.

UNIDENT® DENTAL CONDITIONER

With bioactive hydroxyapatite nanocrystals & herbal extracts

UNIDENT® Dental Conditioner is an innovative product that aims in reconstructing the enamel as its action is based in bioactive hydroxyapatite nanocrystals. Those high purity hydroxyapatite nanocrystals are of similar structure with the inorganic part of the dental tissue and due to their strong adhension on it they help in effectively correcting any structural imperfections. The action of UNIDENT® Dental Conditioner is completed by effectively fighting against dental plaque and improving gum health, offering a bright smile.

Contributes to:

- Mineralization of dental carries
- Sealing of dental tubulens and reduction of dental sensitivity
- Tightening and strengthening gums
- Fighting dental plaque
